COMPANY BACKGROUND

In August 2009, Music Theory Studios LLC opened its doors to musicians, artists and students: offering an array of services and music courses for the novice and established professional artists.

The 'Soulful Techniques' music and art enrichment program is a collective series of classes and workshops which enables children, teens, and adults to develop cultural participation which has been shown to have quantifiable benefits on health measurements, including overall physical health, social functioning, and intellectual vitality.

We are a team that encompasses professional radio DJs, Pro Tool Certified Audio Engineers, and degreed instructors in music education, and music production.
